LIFE GUARD PAUL BROOKER AT
LOWELL PARK SAVED POLO MAN
FROM DEATH IN WATERS OF ROCK

Robert McNaughton of Polo was near death at the Lowell park bathing beach last evening about 6:45 and was rescued from Rock river by Paul Brooker, life guard at the beach, after he had sunk for the second time. Mr. McNaughton was in bathing at an hour when the beach was the least populated, and had climbed up on the pier to dive into the river, when he apparently lost his balance and fell, striking his head against a step. He suffered a fracture of the

ALLEGED USE OF FISH TRAPS
IN ROCK RIVER RESULTED IN ARREST OF BROOKLYNITE SUN.Lafe Nellis Accused of Illegal Fishing in Rock River

The initial step toward ridding Rock river in this locality of fish traps, following a two weeks investigation of conditions from Nelson to Grand Detour along that stream, was taken early Sunday morning when Deputy Fish and Game Warden Fred Kersten of Ashton, assisted by deputies from the office of Sheriff Elliott C. Risley removed traps from the vicinity of the Grand Detour bridge and placed under arrest G. L. "Lafe" Nellis of Brooklyn township.

Numerous complaints of illegal fishing in this locality had prompted the newly appointed official to make a thorough investigation of conditions and from what can be learned, the state officer has found many traps in the river between Nelson and Grand Detour.

Nellis was arrested early Sunday morning by Warden Kersten and brought to Dixon where he was placed in the county jail. Later in the day a charge of illegal fishing in a state fish preserve was filed against him in Justice Grover W. Gehant's court and the case continued until Thursday. Nellis furnished a bond of $500.

Several traps were said to have been removed from the river in the vicinity of the Grand Detour bridge and these were hauled to Dixon. This particular locality has been reported to the state fish and game department as having been a select part of the river for the operations of illegal fishermen, who are said to have been bold enough to run their traps during the daylight hours and in plain view from the Grand Detour bridge.

The operation of fish traps in Rock river has not been the only violation checked up by the deputy warden. Baiting of out lines with live minnows, frogs or other live bait, a direct violation of the fish laws, has also received some attention and prosecutions may follow.

Dixon Man Veteran
Member Law Board

Attorney James W. Watts of this city, a member of the Illinois State Board of Law Examiners, went to Chicago this morning where during the next sixteen days he will sit with the board in the examination of 500 candidates for admission to the bar. Judge Watts has been a member of the board since 1914, his appointment by the Supreme Court at that time having been re-affirmed each succeeding three years—the duration of a term. The position of honor came to the Dixon man unsolicited, in recognition of his knowledge of law and his thoroughness as a teacher.

of Ashton is Dead

(Telephone Special Service)
Ashton, July 19—Mrs. Rachel Webster, aged 94 years, Ashton's oldest resident, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Trostle, last evening, death resulting from infirmities. Mrs. Webster celebrated her ninety-fourth anniversary last March. About two years ago she suffered a fall in which she sustained a fractured hip, which rendered her almost helpless. Two weeks ago, in adjusting a cushion on her chair, she sustained a fall and the injured hip was fractured again, from the effects of which she never recovered. Besides her daughter residing here, one son, Joseph O. Webster, of Dixon also survives.

Johnson's Coupe is Wrecked in Collision

A Ford coupe, owned and driven by George Johnson of this city, was badly damaged in a collision with an Essex coach, driven by Ted Ryan about three miles south of Dixon on route 2 last evening about 9:30. The coupe was turned over on the highway by the force of the impact, but fortunately none of the occupants of either of the cars sustained injuries aside from a general shaking up and minor bruises. The coupe was said to have had but one head light which was confusing to the driver of the other car and resulted in the accident. Both machines were towed to local garages to be repaired.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF ARSON IN DE-
KALB; CONFESSIONSuspect Admits Starting
Fire in That County
July 5th

DeKalb, Ill., July 17—Love for his wife and a belief that she was being stolen from him, caused Ben Thompson, age 45, to set fire to the home and farm buildings of Marvin Zellar on the night of July 5, Thompson told Sheriff E. E. Crawford when he confessed starting the fire.

Thompson and his wife had been employed on Zellar's farm. During the last week of June Thompson is alleged to have threatened "to get" Zellar when Mrs. Thompson went into the Zellar home as housekeeper and Thompson was forbidden to visit the farm.

Monday night, July 5, Zellar's home was ignited with a gasoline torch and the farm buildings burned, the residence being saved by the quick response of neighbors.

Sought to Kill Family
Thompson was immediately suspected and a week ago he was arrested on a farm five miles north of Clinton, Wis., and taken to DeKalb. "I loved my wife, almost worshipped her, and I believed she was being stolen from me," Thompson told Sheriff Crawford and State's Attorney Cassius Poust.

"I intended to burn the Zellar house and farm buildings and the members of the family all, except my wife."

"I knew where my wife slept in the home, I took a tea kettle, went to Zellar's gasoline tank and filled it. I first sprinkled it around the porch and doorway and then in a cellar doorway, leaving a place for my wife to get out. I then went to the barn and sprinkled gasoline there. Going back to the house I set fire to the gasoline on the porch and then ran to the barn and set that afire."

"When I heard people calling, I ran out into an oat field and watched the barn burn and the neighbors save the house. Men walked within a few feet of me while they were hunting for me that night."

"I remained in the oat field all night and the next day. That night I slipped out and hid the next day in an oat field near Sycamore. The third night I took a train to West Chicago for Garden Prairie and then to the farm five miles north of Clinton, Wis., where I was arrested."

Thompson was located on the Wisconsin farm and taken into custody through a letter he had written to his wife.

Arrest of Thompson was accomplished only after brilliant work by Sheriff Crawford.

When the DeKalb county officer arrived at the farm and started search for Thompson, the arson suspect fled and was chased for a mile before he was "cornered" in the middle of a stream.

"You will never take me alive," Crawford, Thompson yelled to the sheriff, producing a knife and whet stone. Sheriff Crawford engaged the man in conversation, Thompson quieted a bit and the sheriff approached nearer. A physical encounter ensued as the two men approached with in a foot or two of each other, the sheriff overpowering Thompson before the fugitive could harm himself.

Sheriff Crawford and State's Attorney Poust today were waiting for typing of Thompson's confession before arraigning him in court.

Report Attempts to Rob Gasoline Pumps

The Wolford oil station at the intersection of route 2 and 6, the Fruit filling station in Franklin Grove and the Smith filling station at the west limits of Ashton were visited by strangers at an early hour Sunday morning and the locks broken on the gasoline pumps, according to reports made to Motorcycle Officer Harold Lenox Sunday morning. At the Wolford station in this city, about six gallons of gasoline was pumped out after the lock had been broken off, but at the other two stations none of the fuel was missed.

BOMBED JAIL IN EFFORT TO GET LIBERTYTwenty-four in Murderers' Row Cook Co.
Jail at Time

Chicago, July 19—(AP)—The record of escapes and attempted escapes from the old county jail was given its most spectacular entry Sunday when smuggled dynamite, fashioned into a bomb and believed to have been set by H. J. Fernekes, midged slayer, in an attempt to escape his impending doom in the gallows, blew an fifteen inch hole in the west wall.

Twenty-four prisoners, either convicted or awaiting trial for murder, including Martin Durkin, gun-man, and Robert Scott were in "Murderers' Row", most of them confined in second tier cells leading directly to the broken wall, when the explosion shattered the Sunday calm of the building.

The dynamite had been swathed in blankets. Only that fact apparently kept it from tearing a huge hole through the wall. The escape was foiled only by inches, the force of the smothered explosion ripping through all but three inches of loose brick facing the outer wall.

With the explosion there sprang up a tremendous commotion, both inside the jail and out.

Armed Guards Active
Fearful that the bomb had shattered the wall and had opened to the prisoners a broad way into the free world, guards, armed with repeating rifles, sprang out to surround the jail a moment after the report had echoed away and police reinforcements were rushed to the locality.

Hundreds of citizens, attracted by the blast which was heard for blocks, came quickly to the scene and remained to gaze at the guns of the guards and police who had been ordered to shoot to kill the first prisoner attempting to escape.

Every lead, police said, pointed to Fernekes. He was one of only five prisoners exercising in the bombed chamber. Fernekes, accused of five slayings, and known to possess skill as a dynamiter, had made several attempt to escape.

Suspect is Defiant
He was questioned, and in suave, defiant strain, denied that he placed the bomb, denied he had made a bed-line for the spot immediately after the explosion, as other prisoners testified he did, and asserted he stood calmly by until order was restored.

Then his cell was searched and the guards found a cup of paraffin which recently had been heated by matches, and a handful of nitro powder, both of which, police said, are used in making a dynamite bomb.

Fernekes was arrested on April 18, 1925, while browsing over chemistry text books in a library. He was identified as the leader of a band that had robbed dozens of banks and as the slayer of five men.

The bomb was exploded at the southwest corner of the second tier, where a double row of cells runs north and south. How the dynamite was smuggled into the jail is a mystery. Fernekes had visitors on Sunday and it was suggested that it might have been given to him then through the mesh screen of the visitors cage.

Rat Bite Likely To Take Boy's Life

Bitten by a cornered rat in a rabbit hutch at his home south of Seward, Samuel Baker is gravely ill of blood poison today.

Several days ago Baker's little boy told his father that a rat had invaded his rabbit hutch. Baker investigated, found the rat and caught it in his hand.

The rat immediately sank his teeth into the fleshy part of Baker's hand. He suffered little pain at the time, but Monday his condition became worse and Dr. D. D. Martin was called. His condition has since then become critical.

Boy Breaks Bones in Neck in Fall From Tree

Charles Moth, 8, son of Wm. Moth of Seward, fell from a cherry tree at his home late Friday and suffered the fracture of two bones in his neck. Dr. D. D. Martin of Seward was called and at first it was feared the spinal cord had been so badly injured that recovery was impossible.

The lad this morning, however, appeared better and Dr. Martin held out hope for his recovery.

C. OF C. BACKING
BIBLE CONFERENCE
TO BE HELD HEREWill Not Interfere With Assembly in Any Particular

A most gratifying feature of the big, new venture by religious leaders in Dixon and roundabout, through the promotion of the Bible Conference in Assembly Park, next month, is the hearty endorsement and co-operation extended by the Directors and Officials of the local Chamber of Commerce.

To bring the high-class leaders from all parts of the country and from foreign lands requires no small support and financial guarantee; especially when it is remembered that no fees or gate-charge of any kind will be made. It has been the consistent policy of such Conference management the country over, to limit attendance in no way, in order to give widest circulation to the benefits following from the presence and work of world-known teachers, ministers, missionaries, musicians, and evangelists of the church. All sessions are free; offerings will be taken, but the bulk of the expense budget will be underwritten in advance, and this section of the preparation work will occupy the attention of the management this week. Preliminary interest affords comparative assurance that Dixon's response will easily measure up to that experienced elsewhere.

Cedar Falls, Iowa, organized five years ago by Dr. Zartman, the genius behind the start in Dixon, and directed solely by him from the beginning, has been a most phenomenal success. No year has closed without a surplus; and Dr. Zartman feels that Dixon is a much more promising territorial center than the Iowa city.

The fears of some that the Conference may interfere with the annual Chautauque Assembly, or others that the opposite may happen, both appear groundless. As a rule, boosters for one are equally zealous for the other; and the whole two weeks period covered by both, July 31—Aug. 15, has an outlook of a larger interest and attendance than for many years.

The summer White House has its first overnight guest tonight, Dwight Davis, Secretary of War, who is coming at the invitation of President Coolidge.

Sunday was a quiet day for the President and Mrs. Coolidge. After attending morning service at the First Presbyterian Church at Saranac Lake they spent the afternoon and evening in camp enjoying the sunshine and the clearing weather. Governor Smith attended the St. Barnabas Catholic church in Saranac Lake just around the corner from the church where the Coolidges attended services.

Thos. H. Eustace
is Laid to Rest

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at St. Luke's Episcopal Church for the late Thomas H. Eustace, pioneer Dixon resident, who died Friday evening at his summer home at Assembly Park. The simple and dignified Episcopal service was read by Father G. Carlton Story and Rev. A. B. Whitcomb. Many friends who have known and loved Mr. Eustace throughout his long residence in this city were in attendance and there were many beautiful flowers. Interment was in Oakwood.

The pall-bearers were: H. U. Bardwell, H. T. Nicks, Theodore Fuller, Wm. Train, H. M. Rasch and A. M. Stein.

7,000 SOUGHT SURCEASE FROM
HEAT IN SHADE AND ON BEACH
AT LOWELL PARK SUNDAY P. M.

Sunday was the biggest day of the present season at Lowell park, and it was estimated that no less than 7,000 persons sought relief from the sweltering heat at the popular resort. The bathing beach as usual, was the center of attraction, and hundreds sported in the water throughout the day and until the beach closed last evening, two life guards were on duty at the beach throughout the day guarding against accidents. The warm days of the past week have swelled the attendance at the park daily and the bathing beach is the most popular section. The management has made an urgent request that the public co-operate in abiding by the beach rules in order to prevent accidents.

SLAYER OF
TWO, SEVERED
AN ARTERYWarren Sanders, Ashton, will Recover,
Prison Heads Say

BULLETIN
Joliet, Ill., July 19—(By The Associated Press, Special to The Telegraph)—Warren Sanders, Lee county inmate, who attempted to commit suicide in the state prison detention hospital Sunday, was in the hospital under observation for mental disease.

Warren Sanders, Ashton youth, who was sentenced to life imprisonment by the late Judge Richard S. Farrant in the Lee county Circuit Court in January 1913, on his confession of the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Geo. Griffith and his wife at the Chicago & Northwestern passenger station in Ashton at an early hour on a Sunday morning early in August, 1912, and who for several years has been a trusted convict on the state honor farm near Lockport, attempted to kill himself while in a cell in the prison detention hospital at Joliet early Sunday morning.

According to meagre reports received by The Telegraph, Sanders severed the arteries in both wrists by battering away the glass of the cell door but prison officials stated today that he will recover.

The reason for his attempted self-destruction is not known, for he has not made an application for parole for several years, hence could not have been disappointed in that particular.

Shot Both Women.
Sanders, according to the story he told Judge Farrant and Judge Harry Edwards, then state's attorney, when he gave his evidence of aggression and mitigation, feared his wife and mother-in-law were planning to take his daughter, Naomi, then twelve years old, away from him.

His wife, from whom he was estranged, was working in Chicago, and returning to Ashton one terrifically hot Saturday afternoon late in August from the harvest fields, where he had almost experienced a stroke during the torrid afternoon, Warren learned from friends that a telephone call from his wife to her parents that afternoon had informed them that she was coming out to Ashton that night, on a train arriving there at about 2 a. m.

After cleaning up and partaking of his supper, Warren said on the stand, he went to the Griffith home to see his daughter and to take her down town and buy her goods for a dress. At the Griffith home, he testified, his daughter called to him from the upper rooms saying her grandmother would not let her see him.

Saw Women With Child.
He returned to town and was loafing in front of a livery barn office, he said, when a short time before the train was due, he saw his mother-in-law and a sister-in-law, with his daughter between them, wending their way to the depot with the aid of a lantern which they were carrying.

Then it was, according to his frank statement on the stand, that he first entertained the fear that the two adults were taking the child to the train and would then turn her over to her mother, who, he feared, would continue westward.

He hurried to the depot and called to Naomi from the door, and again the child was not allowed to go near him. At about this time the train, pulled into the station and Mrs. Sanders, coming around the rear coach, entered the argument. Warren said his mother-in-law and wife attacked him, and in a sudden fit of anger he shot them both dead.

Called Sheriff Himself.
Realizing what he had done, Warren immediately started for the business part of town, meeting on the way, the later Emory Tilton. He told Emory what he had done and offered Emory the revolver which fused to take it, whereupon Warren continued on to the telephone office where he awakened the night operator, and himself called Sheriff C. F. (Continued on page 2)

A WOMAN'S DAY ABROAD

BY ALLENE SUMNER

Through Normandy to Paris—"The dinner they are full madame," till five o'clock this afternoon. Will you buy ticket for to eat then?"

Thus does France greet us at high noon. We have disembarked at Cherbourg. We have battled the boat porters grabbing at our purses. We have collected our various luggage, and at high noon, weak and weary, sunk into our train compartment for a moment before seeking lunch.

"If you do not get to the dinner now," a Serbian girl in our compartment tells you, "you must wait till a station stop, get off the train, walk back to the dinner, eat, and get back here before the train starts again, or wait until the next stop."

We make our pilgrimage only to be told by the guardian of the gate that tables are booked five hours ahead.

And we eschewed a boat breakfast because that pristine meal was served at 6 a. m. in order that the palatial spaces of our Tourist III cabin dining room might be ready for the French immigration officials when the boat dropped anchor.

The first class holds in downy ease until 8 o'clock on docking day; a steward takes care of their needs, but we hot pilots are herded into the dining room two hours before the harbor of ficial enters.

But one's lowly estate has its advantages when tipping time comes. Only poor students and professors and newspaper writers are supposed to be in this class, and the night before docking a slip is passed around, stating the decent amount of tip expected.

One dollar and a half on table steward, reads the edict. Same to state-room steward, and deck steward who serves the daily morning bouillon and afternoon tea, same to literary steward and who dishes up the writing paper and stamps and prattles on the virtues of such books as "Alice in Wonderland" and "East Lynn" as he takes them from the case.

"They told me that baths were booked for a week after the boat docked," a girl at our table said. "I shall tip the bath steward nothing."

"I haven't had any water since the first day," said a college lad bent for Oxford. "I'll make it a zero."

One does not exist from steamer to tender via romantic rope ladder. Merely a tippy gangplank.

Now begins the great national sport betwixt American and Frenchman.

"Pouboire!" "Pouboire!" cry the boat hands on the tender to passengers on the big boat above, who fling them pennies, nickels and dimes.

Meanwhile an eye feast of lush green fields aflame with poppies, wild bachelor buttons bluing the grass, silky-haired goats, women in the Normandy haed dress beating their washing upon the brood's stones, gay flowers growing from mossy thatched roofs, the farmer's two-wheeled cart drawn by lumbering oxen—

So this is France!

"Ouvre," says he. We open the handbags. A shake of a kimono and hair brush, a sniff at a box of candy, and he marks our bags with his number. The two larger ones are marked without opening at all.

Someone has settled for us the little matter of porter tipping by telling us to give about what we would in our native heath.

We proffer our porter a ten franc bill, which today is about 30 cents. There rains upon us a storm of picturesque verbiage. "Figs of Americans. Daughters of a goat. Dogs of a bandit. Can we not see how worn his shoes are from his labors. Have we no mercy for a man who has 11 children to feed. We can travel. He carries bags and we bleed his heart!" Only another ten franc checks the

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY.

BREAKFAST—Stewed dried peaches, boiled rice, thin cream, toasted brain muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Swiss chard on toast, raisin bread and butter sandwiches, jelly roll, milk, tea.

DINNER—Creamed veal, boiled potatoes in parsley butter, new beans in orange sauce, tomato cream salad, raspberry parfait, sponge cake, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

The center, thick part of chard is used for the luncheon dish. The leaves can be used as spinach is used for a salad on the following day.

Add raisins and egg well beaten. Beat mixture hard for several minutes. Turn into two oiled and floured pound baking powder of coffee cans and bake one hour in a hot oven.

Harmon Woman's Club Meeting

The Harmon Woman's Club met Wednesday afternoon, July 14, with the president, Mrs. Will Deltz. The meeting opened with the singing of America. All business matters pertaining to the club were postponed until the August meeting, and the afternoon was given over to Mrs. O. F. Goeke, Mrs. L. N. Deutsch and Mrs. Charles Hay of the Dixon Woman's Club. Mrs. Goeke presented very ably the subject of parliamentary procedure and the advisability of clubs following some of the most essentials. Mrs. Goeke recommended the appointment of special committees to relieve the presiding officers responsibilities. The questions asked and answered well score very beneficial in the continuing the articles of the club.

Mrs. Hey stressed the importance of a constitution, the abiding by the same, once adopted, and the cooperation of all members and officers. Mrs. Hey said the cooperation was absolutely necessary, the first and final requisite of any and all organizations. Mrs. Deutsch, who is a delightful reader and impersonator gave a group of readings and later in the afternoon responded with two other selections, adding much to a very pleasurable afternoon.

The club was favored with a piano solo by Mrs. Leonard Seago; vocal numbers by Mesdames Hill and Kugler. The pianist and singers happily responded to encores.

The Normandy Community club was resented by Mesdames Charles Parker, Arthur Sherburn, Allen Jaynes and Howard Ross. Mesdames Parker and Sherburn were president and secretary, respectively of the Community club while Mesdames Jaynes and Ross were also from the W. R. C. These ladies responded very graciously to the request to give the members helpful suggestions.

The club feels very fortunate in having secured Mesdames Goeke, Deutsch and Hey for this meeting, and their presence as well as their helpful talks lent real inspiration to the occasion.

Ice cream refreshments and social chat closed a very profitable and enjoyable meeting.

IMMIGRATION RESTRICTION.

"We intend that America shall cease to be a polyglot boarding house; that eventually we shall become a homogeneous people," said Representative Johnson of Washington in an article placed in the Congressional Record under the title, Two Years of Immigration Restriction.

Mr. Johnson has stated concisely the purpose behind the legislation intended to restrict immigration of people nations not easily assimilated among Americans.

Under our liberal laws we were becoming such a boarding house as the representatives described. Immigrants came here to live and to make money that was sent back to relatives on the other side. We boarded not only those who came, but those who did not and were not to come.

During 1920 and 1921 the number of immigrants was five times as many as before. Four-fifths of a million persons came to our shores to take advantages of what opportunities were offered here. This was reduced 52 percent by the immigration act passed in 1921. This act fixed the quota to be admitted on basis of those of each separate nation already here.

That basis was not satisfactory, as it had a tendency to give too much to the "boarding house" class, nationalities not easily assimilated in American life. Two years ago new legislation became effective, by which the quota was reduced from 3 percent to 2 percent, and instead of taking present population as a basis, we arranged to take the population of 1890. By this change we brought a greater proportion of persons who become more readily American.

Not only was the type changed, but the number was reduced from 357,000 to 164,000, a decrease of nearly 50 percent.

The last immigration act was not perfect. Corrective measures yet are to be taken to allow families to be united and to remove other handicaps to justice.

The principal problem left is that of immigration "bootlegging," a question that has become irritating to the secretary of labor, who has guided much of the new legislation. The principal difficulty is along the Mexican border, but other borders are open to such abuses.

Her Own Way. A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

IT IS DISHONORABLE TO LISTEN

Although he didn't deserve it, I couldn't help feeling a little bit sorry for Mr. Robinson.

Poor old man! He seemed to have aged ten years in the time since I saw him the day before and this morning.

I really had much more respect for him than for Doctor Flint, whom I knew to be one of those men who would sacrifice anything for money and a certain standing with his employer.

Pointedly I turned away from the doctor and spoke directly to Mr. Robinson, "I will not stay any longer," I said, "for evidently I will be quite in the way if you wish to consult with Doctor Flint."

I turned to go with sinking spirits. The day was passing rapidly. I had to have that money some way, and I was sure that hypocritical doctor would keep Mr. Robinson as long as he could.

Much to my delight, however, Mr. Robinson said, "Miss Dean, will you step into my office and wait. I will be down immediately, and I want to see you."

I bowed my head. Whatever Mr. Robinson's omission or commission, he was always a gentleman.

A I left the room I heard Doctor Flint say angrily, "Why did you acknowledge to that girl that you had that bottle in your hands?"

I stopped quickly just outside the door. I knew it was not honorable to do so, but I told myself that the course I had determined upon was not honorable either, and that I was not going to allow anything to interfere with my getting that money for poor little Joan.

"I didn't see that I could do any differently, Flint," I heard Mr. Robinson say wearily. "I was never so shocked in my life as when after I had glibly told Miss Dean that Miss Cleaver was suffering from an epileptic fit to have her thrust that bottle into my hands and express the opinion that poor Martha had taken poison. She told me she had picked it up from the floor beside her."

"Why didn't you tell me, Flint, that Miss Dean was up there when you reached Martha Cleaver? Certainly you must know that Miss Dean is one of the cleverest girls that ever made her appearance in this store. You could never brow beat her and cow her as you have done to many of the other girls."

"At your request," broke in Doctor Flint bitterly.

Careful Drivers

The following letter gives an intimate picture of the working out of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) campaign for greater safety, and a point of view not often considered.

Manager, Standard Oil Co., Wichita, Kansas.

Dear Sir:

I have been fighting the railroad battle for 30 years—as fireman and engineer. Am now an engineer on the Santa Fe, running between Newton and Arkansas City. I take this means of letting the management of the Standard Oil Company know how much I appreciate the consideration your truck drivers give a man running an engine. It is such a relief to see your men stop a safe distance from the tracks and give us a highball, which seemingly is a small thing to do yet means so much to us.

I thank you.
Yours truly,
H. G. Carson.

This letter presents a peculiarly interesting point of view on the question of traffic safety—that of the train man who is often forced to play an unwilling part in tragic motoring accidents.

The man who drives an engine over a prescribed pathway, according to prescribed schedule, must often share in the disaster caused by carelessness of a motorist who drives according to his own time and pleasure.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been unusually successful in preventing such carelessness among its drivers, by its extensive and intensive safety campaign.

All Standard Oil Company (Indiana) drivers are taught to recognize the ever-present dangers of motor traffic. They are taught to respect the rights of others.

A Standard Oil Company (Indiana) driver does not "take a chance" at a railroad crossing. He knows that the oncoming train has right of way. He knows that it is his duty to respect that right and to consider the other fellow. What this consideration means to the engineer of the train is shown in the above letter of appreciation.

Extra caution at railroad crossings is a part of the program of extra carelessness that all Standard Oil Company (Indiana) drivers rigidly follow.

They do more than obey traffic regulations to the letter, because they share the purpose for which the regulations were made—to prevent the deaths of innocent people—and they share the spirit of human sympathy and consideration which prompted their making.

This spirit is to be expected of the loyal men of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) organization. They have learned to consider the rights, convenience, and safety of the other fellow first, as a working business principle, every day of the year.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was created to serve the people of the Middle West. Its safety campaign is but an extension of this service which is resulting in a larger realization of its high purpose.

ITALIAN CHAMP'S WAR-RECORD ONE OF REAL MOMENT

Wrestler Who Appears
Here Tomorrow Eve
is Versatile

A soldier, a dancer, a professional weightlifter and wrestling champion of Italy are some of the things which Oreste Vadali, the young Italian wrestler who meets Big Bill Martin at Rosbrook Hall tomorrow night, has been during the 29 years of his life. No more versatile a man can be found anywhere than the chunky son of Italy who has dedicated his life to a career of red-blooded sport.

Vadali was born in Turin, Italy, in 1897. After receiving an education at a military school in his native city he entered the Italian army and fought with distinction against the Turks during the years of 1912 and 1913. It was during his later school years and his period of enlistment that he first became interested in wrestling and weight-lifting. Endowed by nature with super-human strength, he made himself still more powerful by constant practice in Graeco-Roman wrestling and weight-lifting.

After being mustered out of the Italian army in 1913 Vadali became interested in theatrical work. He was but sixteen years of age, and being extremely light on his feet he became a professional dancer, appearing often in Milan, the home of La Scala Opera House. The World War once more called him to the colors, and he served until the close of the war in 1918, when, after winning the wrestling championship of the Italian army, he immediately set out for America. Once in the United States he found extreme difficulty in securing matches, and for two years he hung on the outskirts of the game in the eastern states, wrestling seldom but winning with ease on his rare appearances. Finally he was given a chance against Stanislaus Zbysko, who had just returned from Poland, and to the surprise of everyone he held the ponderous Pole to a draw in two hours of wrestling.

Fame soon came to Vadali then, and for six months he maintained his spotless record in New York, Boston and other eastern mat centers. After that time he returned triumphantly to Italy, where he was hailed everywhere as the greatest wrestler of the age. During his two-year sojourn in his homeland he met and encountered every Italian mat man of distinction, and when he once more set foot on these shores he had added prestige of being champion of Italy.

Vadali has been training in Dixon for the last week with Bob Carroll of St. Louis. Carroll is one of the lightweights in the preliminary Tuesday night. He is a rising young wrestler with plenty of speed and he has mastered a large variety of holds when wrestling with men in his class. Carroll is well known in and around St. Louis where he had most of his mat experience.

Louis Schube of Mapleton, Minn., is the other contestant in the preliminary. He is a veteran of the mat, and has met and wrestled some of the best men in the middle States that are in the lightweight class.

Chicago's Second Ring Show Promises Some Real Scrapping

Chicago, July 19.—Tommy Ryan, McKeesport, Penna., bantam, who meets Bud Taylor at the top of the boxing card at the White Sox Park here next Saturday, arrived yesterday in compliance with the rules of the Illinois Commission and proceeded to get right to work at Mullen's Gym in the afternoon. Tommy will do road work each morning in Lincoln Park. As he is in good shape after three weeks training in the east, will need very little hard training to get ready for the Terre Haute Terror, Hugh Sharron of Buffalo, who handles Tommy's business is confident his boy will take Taylor's measure and was willing to make a sizeable wager to that effect yesterday.

Ryan is the hardest man in the world to fight as he works from a crouch-like Dave Shade and is constantly weaving in and out, giving his opponent very little in the way of a target. Tommy keeps his head out of range all the time and usually make life miserable for the average top notch fighter. His wins over Chick Surges, Carl Tremains and Bushy Graham, stamp him as a great boxer and he will prove plenty tough for Bud Taylor to handle when they meet in the main event Saturday.

Bud has been working for a week here boxing daily and going through the usual gymnasium stunts. He has been out on the road each morning. Taylor boxed yesterday with Bobby Hughes, New Orleans bantam, and took on Young Ross, a fast feather-weight for four rounds. Bud looked better than ever and whitt a fight it will be when he starts slinging lefts and rights at the Pennsylvanian.

Billy Petrolle gave the boys who are betting on Johnny Adams quite a shock by the manner in which he went through his work yesterday. Adams worked at 2 p. m. and Petrolle at 3 o'clock. After Adams finished up for the day, very few fans could see how it is possible for any lightweight in the country to take his measure. However, when Petrolle got busy a couple of hours later the boys sat up and took notice.

This kid from the Northwest is a great boxer, as fast as any man in the world at any weight and is constantly on the go. He leads, never backing up and is not a counter puncher. Adams is another boy who steps right in and doesn't give any ground or moves backwards. The chances are that this fight will cause heart failure among some of the folks next Saturday afternoon.

Spug Myers and Billy Bortfeld who meet in the third ten-rounder also finished their daily work yesterday in good style. Pa Bortfeld who looks after the younger member of the House of Bortfeld is confident his boy will win the "duke." However, the Churchill stable doesn't have any ordinary boys under contract and this lad from Idaho may upset the dope.

Gentleman Jack McVey, world's best colored boy and Wolcott Langford, southern welter champ are fit and ready for their fust. Tickets are on sale and prices are one to seven dollars plus tax, with headquarters at Mullen's Gym, 180 W. Randolph.

ZACHARY AND ROOT HEROES OF SUNDAY GAMES

Former Handed Yanks the First Shutout of Present Season

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Zachary, 30 year old left hander of the Browns, formerly of the Senators, may well claim something of a feat in this baseball year of many fests, for he is the first to shut out the Yankees of 1926.

The team pitcher from North Carolina permitted the slugging Huggins team to hit safely nine times yesterday, but his veteran head turned them back when trouble threatened. St. Louis won 4-0, Ken Williams hitting a home run that sent Sam Jones showerward.

Cleveland downed its former great pitcher Stanley Coveleskie at Washington 5-3 although outbitt by the American League champions.

Cincinnati today maintains a margin of only one and one half games over the world champion Pirates and the Cardinals in the National League, having fallen before Brooklyn again, 2-1. Outfield errors permitted both runs made by the Dodgers.

Root Mastered Giants.
Charley Root gave a more than capacity throng in Chicago something to rave about by topping the New York Giants 2-1 in a brilliant battle with Hugh McQuillan. Fred Lindstrom and Paul Florence of the Giants received presents and greetings from a delegation of old school mates.

Billy Southworth, playing on his fourth club in the National League appears to have found his haven at last in right field for the Cardinals. The former Pirate, Brave and Giant added another home run to his list yesterday in the Cardinals' 9-7 victory over Philadelphia putting Hornsby's team in a virtual tie with Pittsburgh for second place.

Mark Arle of Champaign, Ill., won the Great Western doubles championship, feature of the first day of the shooting in the Great Western handicap, staged at the Denver Municipal Gun Club. His score was 138 out of a possible 200. He had a straight run of 163 birds.

Jack Delaney, newly crowned, may find himself a king without a kingdom. Boxing observers believe that only one man can give Delaney a real battle for the honors he won by a decision over Paul Berlenbach in Brooklyn Friday night—and that man is Berlenbach.

OLDSMOBILE ANNOUNCES

ADDED POWER . . LONGER LIFE SMOOTHER PERFORMANCE

Enlarged Engine Enlarged in the bore of the cylinders from 2 1/4 inches to 2 3/4 inches, increasing its displacement from 169 cubic inches to 185 cubic inches.

Dual Air Cleaning In this new Oldsmobile, a master air cleaner eliminates the injurious particles from two-thirds of the air before it enters the carburetor directly—while the second cleaner, in connection with crankcase ventilation, cleans the balance of the air.

Crankcase Ventilation In all internal combustion engines water is formed by condensation. Cold engines do not burn all of the fuel on starting. This water and liquid fuel pass into the crankcase and form crankcase dilution. Excessive dilution is eliminated by crankcase ventilation. It draws off water vapor and unburned fuel that may have passed into the crankcase. Crankcase ventilation improves performance and gives longer life to the engine and oil.

Oil Filter An oil filter has been added to this Oldsmobile, prolonging still more the life of the engine and the useful life of the oil. Should the filter become clogged with sediment, the lubricating system functions in the common manner. All principle parts are pressure lubricated.

Harmonic Balancer The Harmonic Balancer, developed by General Motors engineers, counteracts vibration and gives Oldsmobile a smoothness you will quickly recognize when you take the wheel.

High Velocity Hot Section Manifold An improved jacketing of the intake manifold by the heated exhaust manifold is effected in the vertical section of the intake passage above the carburetor. The intake manifold, being above the exhaust manifold and heated by it, retains the highly explosive state of incoming gases.

New Axle Ratio The gear ratio of the rear axle has been reduced to 4.73 to 1. This contributes to smoother performance in that fewer revolutions of the engine are required to drive the car a given distance, while the enlarged engine leaves a new surplus of power even after the change in gear ratio.

Dome Shaped Combustion Chambers A slight change in the contour of the combustion chambers gives greater turbulence to the incoming gases. This change produces smoother engine performance and contributes materially to surplus power.

Two-Way Cooling Now Oldsmobile offers "two-way" cooling, which incorporates the best features of the two accepted types—pressure cooling and thermo-siphon cooling. Parts at the point of greatest heat are cooled by the manifold method of circulation, while the slower thermo-siphon type of action, in which the rate of circulation is largely governed by the reaction of heat upon the water, maintains about the cylinders sufficient warmth for efficient operation. Here is a new type of cooling design, incorporating the best features of all past engineering in even temperature cooling control.

Other Improvements Other changes, contributing added power, longer life and smoother performance, form a long list of features such as slight change of cam contour, double valve springs as in aircraft and racing car engines—and others equally important.

GREATER ECONOMY

Manifold Design The manifold design also improves the operating economy of the Oldsmobile Series "E." On the General Motors Proving Ground, this car established new records for Oldsmobile operating economy.

The dual-air cleaning, the crankcase ventilation, the "two-way" cooling and other features that are attributes of longer life, power, efficiency and smoothness, are also factors of operating economy.

ADDED POWER : LONGER LIFE : SMOOTHER PERFORMANCE : ADDED DRIVING EASE AND SECURITY : GREATER ECONOMY : FINER APPOINTMENTS : ADDED BEAUTY : AT NO INCREASE IN STANDARD PRICES

"... that the American family may have, at a moderate investment, a car which gratifies their finer tastes as well as satisfies their every need...."

Today Oldsmobile keeps faith with its public trust—

... confirms its declaration of principles published a week ago—

... returns to you the benefits of manufacturing advantages and economies created by the greatest year in Oldsmobile history!

Today Oldsmobile presents brilliant progress without basic change in the car which has won its way to public preference by sheer surpassing merit—

... new features of known value—

... improvements of demonstrated worth—proved in tests on the General Motors Proving Ground to provide even livelier, smoother performance, even longer life, even greater operating economy, than already characterize Oldsmobile Six!

Today this even finer Oldsmobile goes on display, and you are invited to see it—

... to view the beauty and luxurious new appointments of its Fisher Body—

... to go over the car, point by point, feature by feature—

... to know, as only seeing can tell you, what a truly great car this is!

Scouting in Lee and Ogle Counties Area

EXODUS FOR CAMP
A great throng of Boy Scouts has made its appearance in summer camps at mountain, lake and sea-shore. Of more than one half million American boys and girls who will in the next two months enter organized and directed camp organizations, more than one half will be boys in attendance at camps under the auspices of the Boy Scouts of America, according to preliminary estimates made at its National Headquarters in New York. The boys will be at camps for periods varying from one week to the season through.

The number of Boy Scouts at camps in 1925 reached a total of 259,702. Although registration for the current year is not yet completed, there is every evidence that the figure for 1926 will far exceed that of last year.

A permanent site for each camping unit has been set as a decided goal. A movement is on foot throughout the country to acquire by gift, if possible, or by purchase, sites which will belong to the organization and can be equipped with buildings and other permanent features.

In New York and New Jersey special efforts are being made to acquire permanent sites for all councils in those states.

Western Scouts Get Gift
The Boy Scout Council of Butte, Montana, has recently acquired a permanent campsite. One of the most notable gifts of camp property is reported from Middletown Ohio. Charles R. Hook, Vice-president of the American Rolling Mill Company, purchased and gave to the council in that city 133 acres of wooded land, six miles outside the city and adjacent to an excellent swimming hole. The tract is approximately one-half mile in length and four-fifths of a mile wide. Fifty acres of the tract are tillable land. They will be farmed to provide garden supplies for the several troops from time to time in camp. Land has been given at Dexter, Mich., for a camp for the Ann Arbor council. Improvements at the site are under way.

Ranch, Their Site
The one time headquarters of the famous Curry Comb ranch near Post City, Texas, will be the future headquarters of the summer camp of the South Plains troops. The C. W. Post estate has given to the council 420 acres at Double Mountain River, a part of the former ranch site. The Evanston, Illinois, scouts have acquired nearly 500 additional acres adjacent to the existing camp sit of 200 acres on Duck Lake, Michigan. The property also has a frontage on Lake Michigan and provides summer quarters for more than 3,000 boys. As a supplement to the main summer camp of the Boy Scouts of St. Louis at Lonsdale, Missouri, the Southside Lions Club of St. Louis has made a gift of a 250 acre wooded land tract near Imperial, 22 miles south of St. Louis. By the gift of Fred Chapman, an excellent campsite has been made available for Boy Scouts of Ardmore, Oklahoma.

From far away Alaska come reports of the summer camping activities of the Boy Scouts in that great North-western territory. Twenty Boy Scouts from troop No. 1 of Ketchikan joined Boy Scouts of Juneau in camp at Haines, Alaska, making the trip to the camp last named on the United States coast guard cutter Cygan.

CAMPERS
When passing through Forest Reserves or camping therein, please comply with the simple but necessary rules set forth hereunder:
Be sure your camp fire is OUT before you leave it; extinguish it with earth or water.
Be careful with lighted matches. Stamp them out in the dust.
Leave a clean camp. Bury all garbage and rubbish.
Do not pollute streams and springs.
Do not mutilate trees or improvements around camping or picnic grounds.
Destroy no live trees.
Do not mutilate notices of any description.
Do not take ferns or shrubs; it is prohibited.
Remember the forests are your property, so protect them.
Be sure that your camp fire is built in a safe place.
Help to keep the forests green, clean.
Put out any fire you find. If too large notify at once the nearest forester or police officer.

New York—See-sawing up and down Broadway, I did see the University of Wisconsin rowing crew displaying at Tommy Guinan's Play-ground. And whatever their ill success in the late regatta, surely they were most victorious in the conquest of pretty chorines.
Saw many noted ones at the club of Tommy's little sister Texas, and it moves me always to wonder at the strange cross section of life presented by the more popular of these resorts. What with potentates and celebrities rubbing elbows with unknowns and questionables.
Behold no less than Commander Byrd, his polar regalia changed to smart uniform, dancing about with

Million Beads

Miss Charlotte Pleshette of New York, returns from Paris with a bag of 1,000,000 steel beads strung in the design of the famous stained window of Notre Dame Cathedral, France. It took 361 days to make and she hopes it will set a new fashion of large handbags.

fair ladies. And none watched him more closely than Harry Thaw, who sat close by and seems to be everywhere these nights, accompanied by a tall and handsome man of middle years who looks to be an Englishman.

There, too, was Alexander Moore, one-time ambassador to Spain, but remembered best, mayhap, as the husband of the famous Lillian Russell. And Dudley Field Malone, celebrating the approaching anniversary of the Tennessee "monkey trial." Wonder what they're doing in the "drug store where it happened?"

And what has become of the drug store that once was an "apothecary"? Note more and more the drug stores of Manhattan turning into lunch rooms and giving less and less space to their medicines. One such now proudly advertises a half dozen combination club breakfasts.

Sign in 33rd street lunch room: "You can eat here in one minute." And thousands of people doing it. Grabbing and running at the noon hour. More like the stampeding animals than humans.

While among the new automobile accessories are little tables that can be set up for dining, so that no precious moment need be lost. But I did not think anyone would use them until, lo, I beheld a couple on the avenue, dining and chatting as they rode. And I am given more and more to wonder at where this rush and haste for food will end?

Here's one for your "daily irony." An item in a Brooklyn newspaper tells me that one Kit Carson, kin of the historic scout and trail blazer, lost his way while going about Brooklyn. —GILBERT SWAN.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"LIFE" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 18. The Golden Text was from Colossians 3:2, 3, "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God."
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life. And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son, Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life" (1 John 5:11, 12, 20).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Be watchful, sober, and vigilant, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life. It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter,—certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, or life in God" (p. 324).

Tex Rickard, promoter of some of the biggest boxing bouts in recent years, is to remarry. The bride-to-be is announced while here arranging for the Dempsey-Tunney championship bout, is Miss Maxine Hodges, 25, a Chicago girl and former actress whom he has known for eight years. He said the ceremony probably would not take place until fall.

What is claimed to be a world record for the decathlon was made at an athletic meet at Viborg, Finland, yesterday by Paavo Yrjola. He scored 7,311.03 points. The old record, 7,131.75 points was made by Harold Osborn of the Illinois Athletic Club representing the United States in the Olympic games in Paris in 1924.
Charles Paddock, cinder track flash, who has been appearing in the movies at Los Angeles, recently, is to wed a star of the silver screen, Miss Bebe Daniels. She says the marriage will not take place for a year.

Telephone Manners Disclose Character, Says Student Thesis

All persons have special manners for the telephone, says Franklin F. Stephen, University of Chicago, in a thesis, "Social Aspects of the Telephone." Some are rough and ready, others sweet and oily, but they are different manners than are used otherwise, he finds.

"Like the company you keep, your telephone manners reveal your true character, not only to central, but to persons at the other end of the line," he says. "The telephone is breaking down many business and social barriers. It gives a personal approach not possible otherwise. It has allied itself with law and crime alike, serves every class and condition of men, and is one of the most vital daily factors in our present-day civilization."

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath. When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions. There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.
